A Day at the Park

Milo McIver State Park has two inviting day-use areas open year-round. The Riverbend Day-use Area has rolling grass meadows accented by maple and Douglas-fir trees. Here you will find trails, picnic shelters, restrooms, a 27-hole disc golf course and a primitive boat launch. Picnic tables are located near each of the major parking areas. Picnic shelters for large groups can be reserved in advance: 1-800-452-5687.

The Riverside Day-use Area has picnic tables, a group picnic area, a boating/rafting access ramp, a large parking area and a fish hatchery operated by the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife. The hatchery raises and releases more than a million Chinook salmon each year. A non-reservable group picnic area near the hatchery can accommodate up to 100 people. Seven miles of hiking and horseback trails meander through meadows and forested hillsides.

Disc Golf Fun

Spend a lazy afternoon playing this popular sport in the park's nationally recognized, year-round, 27-hole disc golf course that weaves over rolling hills and forests along the scenic Clackamas River. The course—located in the Riverbend day-use area—is fun for all levels from beginner to pro. Rent or buy discs at the park office.

Play it Safe

The park has many access points to the Clackamas River. Do not try to navigate the river unless you have the proper equipment and skill.

Day-use Parking

Day-use visitors must have a valid parking permit. You can buy a daily permit at the park's entrance booth, or purchase 12- and 24-month permits at store.oregonstateparks.org and at major park offices, including the Milo McIver office. Your camping receipt serves as a daily parking permit for the days you are registered.
