Goose Lake State Recreation Area is a peaceful lakeside destination for both people and wildlife. Its expanse of green grass and shade trees makes it an inviting place to camp, and the lake is a pleasant spot for boating.

Seasonal Camping

(Campground open May through September)

- 48 electrical sites with water (first-come, first-served)
- 20 amp electric outlets
- Grassy area for tents
- Paved parking, picnic table, and fire ring at all sites
- Flush toilets and hot showers
- RV dump station
- Primitive boat ramp

About the Park

The campground sits on the shore of Goose Lake, a large, shallow lake that straddles the Oregon-California border. Water levels on the lake may vary. The park's remote location makes camping reservations unnecessary. The Lake County railroad, which crosses the park, runs mid-day to the main line in Alturas, California.

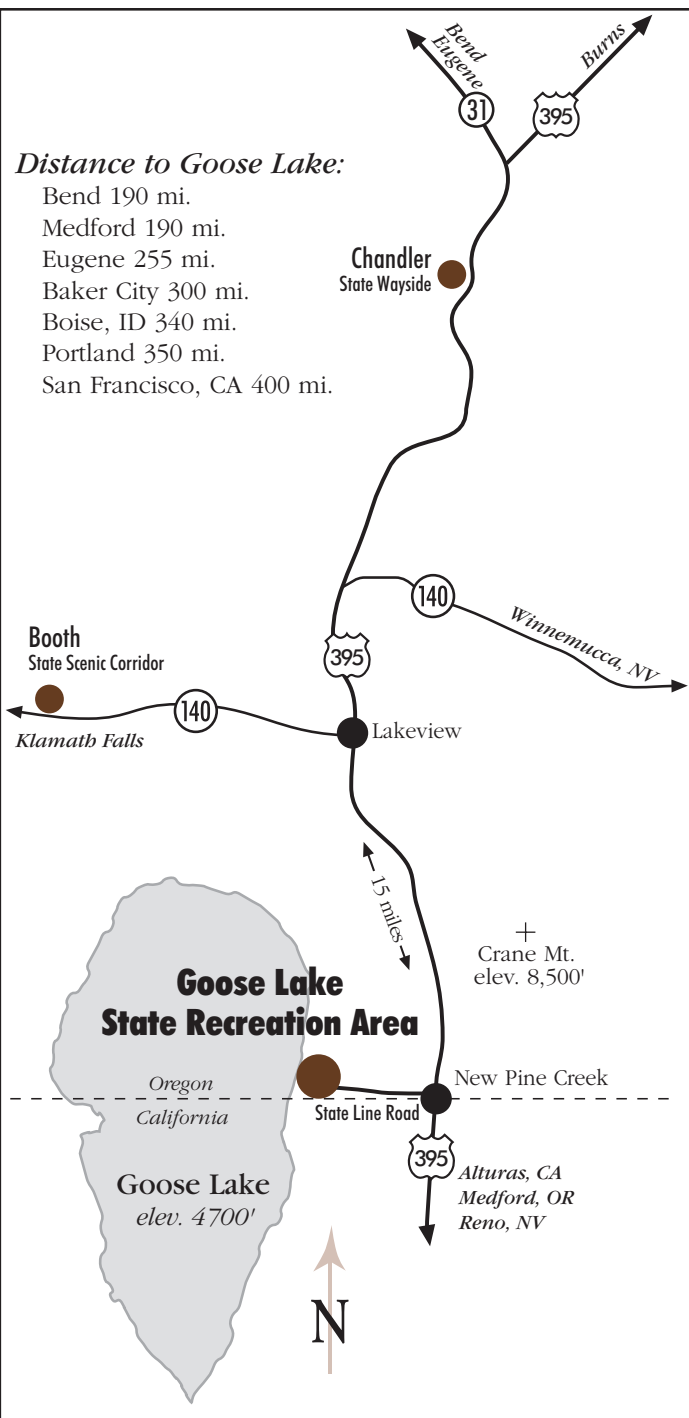

Migratory waterfowl are most abundant in the spring and early summer when stream runoff is at its peak. Mule deer frequent the park during the morning and evening in late summer and fall to feed on fruit from an old homesteader's orchard located within the campground.

The park provides a base from which to explore areas such as Hart Mountain Wildlife Refuge, the 8,500-foot Warner Mountains just east of the park, and the obsidian beds in the Modoc National Forest of northeast California. Nearby Lakeview (15 miles north) offers fuel, groceries, vehicle repair services, and restaurants.

Camping Rates

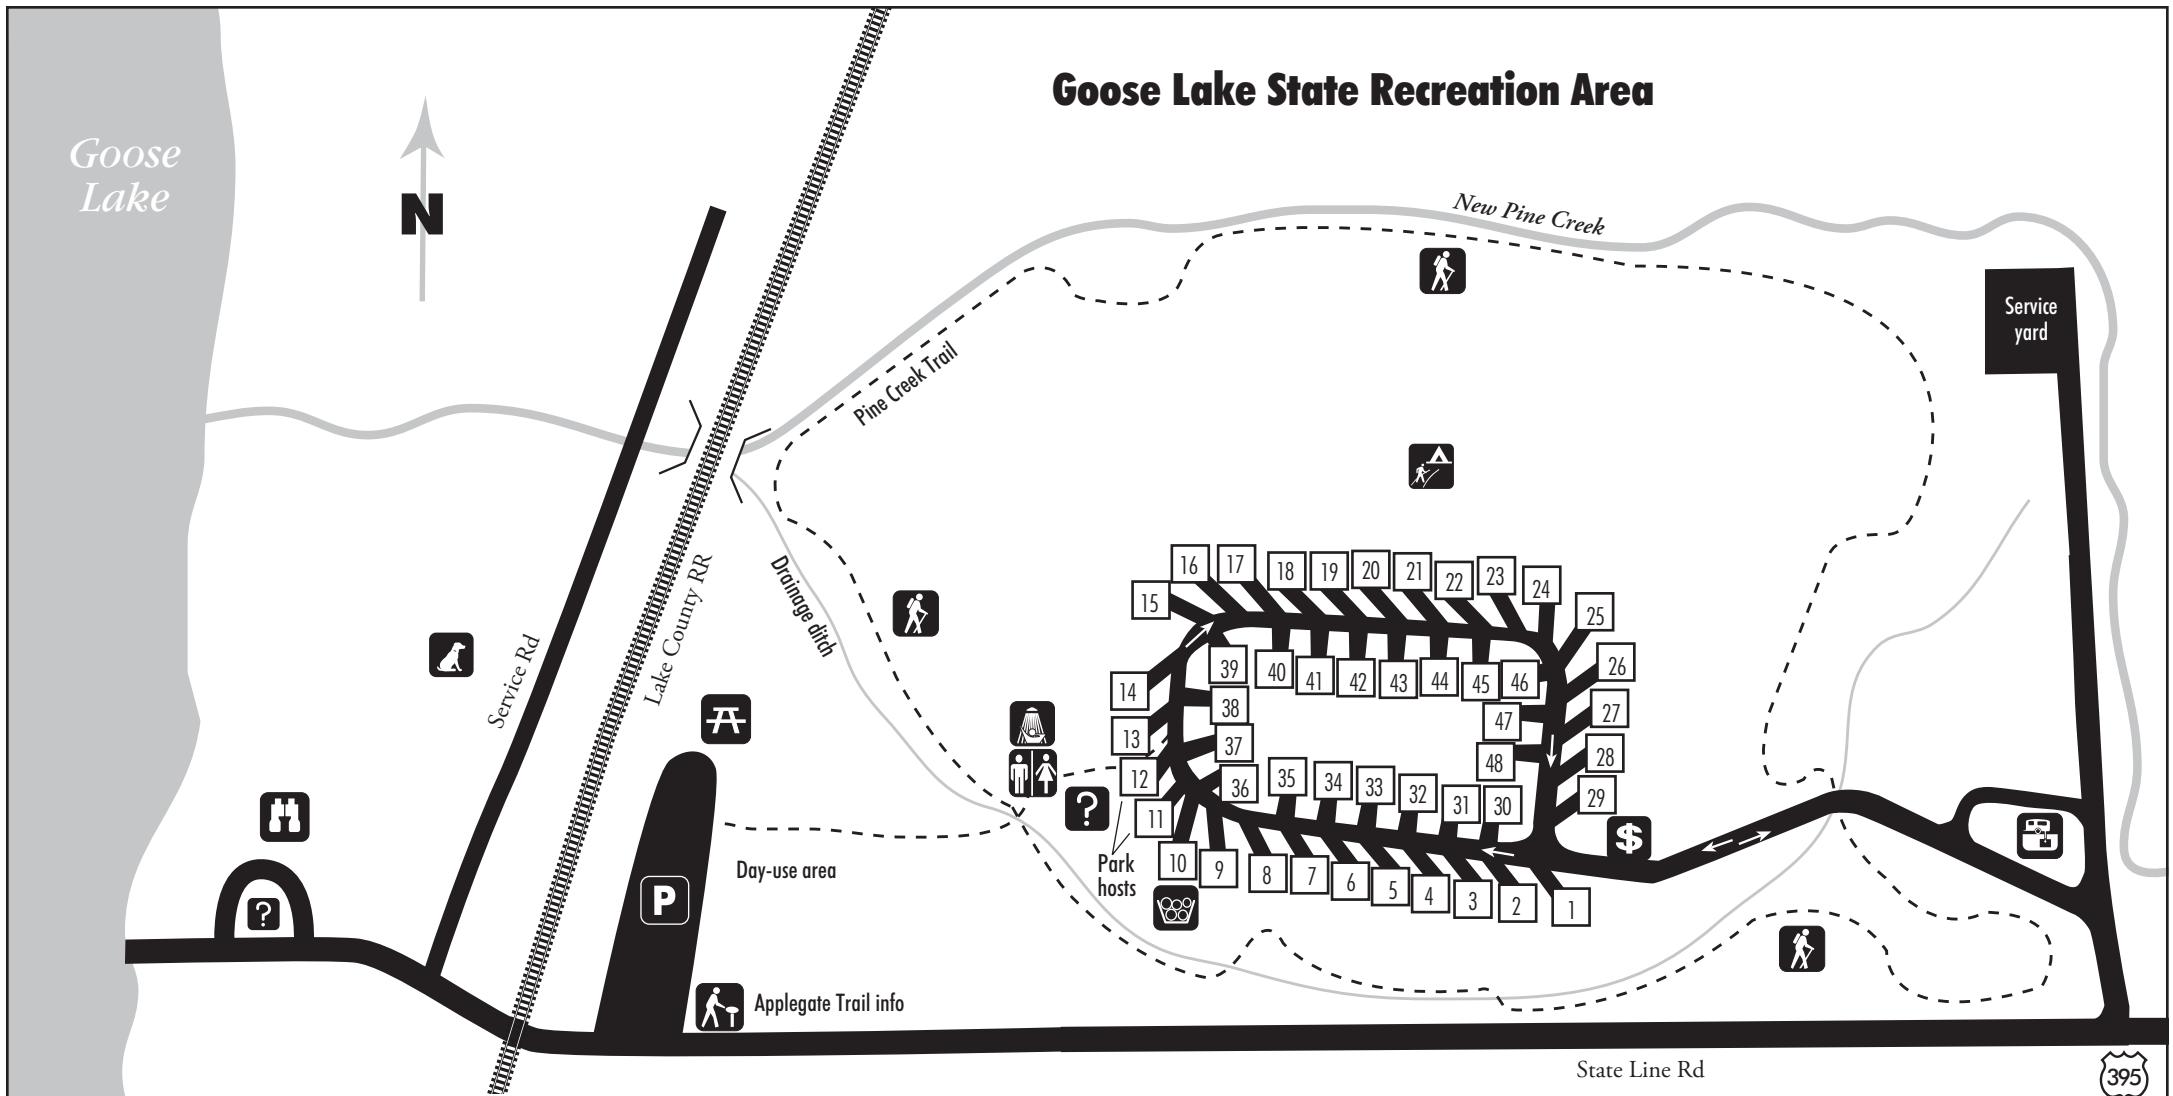

Rates are subject to change. You can get up-to-date information by calling 1-800-551-6949 or visiting www.oregonstateparks.org.

Smoking in Oregon State Parks is allowed only in personal vehicles, RVs, campsites and portions of day use parks along state highways that are designated as safety rest areas by the Oregon Department of Transportation.
