Year-round Cabin Comforts

Emigrant Springs' duplex totem cabin and six rustic log cabins offer a unique overnight camping experience. The totem cabin has two separate units; each has a bunk bed with a double mattress on the bottom and a single on top.

The rustic cabins are 13' x 13' feet and have 6-foot covered porches. Each cabin has a futon couch and a bunk bed that will sleep two on the bottom and one on the top with vinyl-covered mattresses. There is also a small refrigerator, table with chairs, lights, and heating inside. Outside you'll find a propane stove and oven. Up to two pets (cats and/or dogs only) are allowed in the pet-friendly cabins for an additional fee.

Groups Welcome

The group tent camping area is reservable year-round by calling 1-800-452-5687. Groups can reserve the community building by calling the park office at 541-983-2277. The building includes both kitchen and dining accommodations. Kitchen shelters are also available in the park's forested picnic area.

Group activities for individual campers are regularly scheduled during the summer. Join us for a guided nature hike or an evening interpretive presentation to find out more about the area's history and natural resources.

Explore the Oregon Trail

Learn about the adventures of early settlers from the park's Oregon Trail interpretive shelter and covered wagon display. Emigrant Springs is near an original section of the Old Oregon Trail. Wagon trains camped in the vicinity for several days and replenished their water barrels from the spring. A monument was erected at this location and dedicated by President Warren G. Harding in their honor on July 3, 1923.

Oregon Trail wagon ruts can be seen at Deadman's Pass Rest Area seven miles northwest of Emigrant Springs, on I-84, and at the U.S. Forest Service Oregon Trail Interpretive Park located off I-84 (take Exit 248 and follow the signs).
