Humbug Mountain State Park includes one of the Oregon coast's highest headlands, which shelters an inviting, forest-ringed creekside campground.

Year-round Camping
- 34 electrical sites with water (five pull-through)
- 56 tent sites with water nearby
- Paved parking, picnic table, and fire ring at all sites
- Hot showers and flush toilets
- Hiker/biker camp
- Firewood and ice for sale (when available).

Universal Access
Two electrical sites (#2 and 78) are accessible according to the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Camping Rates
Rates are subject to change. You can find up-to-date information by calling 1-800-551-6949 or visiting oregonstateparks.org.

A Learning Environment
With its sparkling freshwater stream, ocean frontage, and 1,756-foot mountain, Humbug Mountain has an abundance of natural resources to explore. Evening presentations and Junior Ranger activities are offered July through Labor Day.

Hike to the Summit
A scenic trail winds out of Brush Creek Canyon into an old growth forest along the north face of Humbug Mountain. Trailhead parking is off U.S. 101. About one mile in, the trail forks and takes you on a circular loop. To the east, a two-mile section begins ascending, with several switchbacks, through headland forest en route to the summit. The west trail traverses the ocean side of the mountain and goes for 1.5 miles.

Smoking in Oregon State Parks is allowed only in personal vehicles, RVs, campsites and portions of day use parks along state highways that are designated as safety rest areas by the Oregon Department of Transportation.

Follow the Coast Trail
A portion of the 360-mile Oregon Coast Trail winds through Humbug Mountain State Park. From Battle Rock City Park in Port Orford, the trail follows the beach to Rocky Point where it crosses U.S. 101 and continues along the Old Coast Hwy 101. A hiker-biker camp offers an overnight stop. The Oregon Coast Trail continues to the day-use area and along U.S. 101 south to Euchre Creek and the beach. The day-use area, which is located at the south end of the park, has picnic facilities with a covered gazebo.

More to See
Port Orford and the vicinity attract rockhounds, scuba divers and surfers. Fresh and saltwater fishing can yield cod, halibut, sole, salmon, smelt, trout, and steelhead.

Port Orford Heads State Park features the historic Cape Blanco Lighthouse (541-332-0521), the westernmost and oldest standing lighthouse on the Oregon coast. The park is also the site of the historic Hughes House (541-332-0521), built for a 19th-century rancher. Tours are offered April through October. Spectacular views of offshore rocks and sheltered coves are visible from the hiking trails on the oceanside bluff.

Cape Blanco State Park, nine miles north of Port Orford, offers year-round camping near the historic Cape Blanco Lighthouse (541-332-0521), the westernmost and oldest standing lighthouse on the Oregon coast. The park is also the site of the historic Hughes House (541-332-0521), built for a 19th-century rancher. Tours are offered April through October.

Arizona Beach State Recreation Site, six miles south of Humbug Mountain, offers a cozy, sandy beach sheltered by rocky headlands on each end. The park also has a fishing pond open to anglers age 17 and under. The pond is filled with rainbow trout stocked by the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife. Youth between the ages of 14 and 17 must possess a juvenile angling license to fish.

Gold Beach, 28 miles south of Port Orford, is the starting point for exciting jet boat rides up the famous Rogue River. Round trips last from two to seven hours.

The Native American name for Humbug Mountain is Mii-paash, which refers to the cheek meat of salmon, cod and other big ocean fish considered a delicacy by tribes on the coast. Humbug Mountain's shape is said to be reminiscent of a large salmon cheek.
